Won Out by a Nose.

From the Providence Journal. A Brown man of the class of '99, whose admiration for Latin and Greek perhaps distances his love for athletics, came very near losing his degree because of the fact. Just before commencement young Mr. Senior engaged in a race for the coveted document which he probably will long re-member. The college man won-won out by a nose. It happened this way: The young man in question had passed all the examinations and naturally was entitled to the parchment. Two days previous to commencement, however, he received a notice from the faculty to the effect that he had neglected his gymnasium duties a suf-ficient number of days to foot up to half a term. As the gymnasium course is just as much a part of the college curriculum as any of the regular studies, and as the senior had not made up the half term collection of "cuts," he would not receive a diploma, the notice stated. The eleventh hour had arrived, but the student did not lose heart on that account.

Bright and early one morning he entered the gymnasium hall, took off his coat and Bright and early one morning he entered the gymnasium hall, took off his coat and commenced swinging dumb bells, jumping hurdles, etc. All day long, until after sunset, he worked away for dear life and the degree, and before he left the building he had the satisfaction of knowing that the morrow would find him on the platform with the rest of '99 awaiting his turn to remorrow would find him on the platform with the rest of '99, awaiting his turn to receive the precious document.

This is said to be the narrowest escape ever recorded at the college on the hill.

Special Disputch to The Evening Star.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 29 .- Emme Kerfoot, the little twelve-year-old girl who was so brutally outraged on Thursday near Mondel's Station, twelve miles from Hagerstown, by an unknown colored man, was brought to this city yesterday evening by her father, T. F. Kerfoot, for the purpose of identifying Johnson, the negro arrested at Williamsport Thursday night and placed in jail here. She was immediately taken to the office of State's Attorney Wagaman, where three colored men were brought in her presence. She promptly declared that neither one of them was the man. She was then taken to the jail, where five colored men had been placed in a cell with Johnson, and asked to pick out the man who assaulted her. She pointed to Johnson and said, "That's the man." She was positive in her identification, even down to a cut or

The news of the identification spread rapidly around town, and an immense crowd soon congregated at the jail and in the streets leading to it.

There was great excitement and much indignation expressed, which was participated in by many of the colored citizens. This crowd seemed to increase as the night wore on. The excitement was augmented. wore on. The excitement was augmented by rumors from Williamsport that the boatmen were tying up their boats and forming a lynching party, which, however, did not materialize.

Every precaution was taken to insure the maintenance of the law and the safety of the prisoner. The guard at the jail has been increased by twenty men, and the state, county and municipal authorities are all on the alert to nip any uprising in the

All was quiet here today up to noon. The street corners are full of men, but they are orderly, and no outbreak is feared as far as Hagerstown is concerned. But along the canal and the river district the men are in an ugly mood. The prisoner will have a speedy trial if left to the law. Judge Stake will reconvene the grand jury for this purpose.

Another Concert-Excursion to Be Given Next Tuesday. success of the concert-excursion of the College Alumni String and Glee Club, which was given this week under such unfavorable weather conditions, should give this energetic organization great encouragement. Washington can well support such a combination of good singers and instrument players, and the quality of work produced by the club in a very short space of time gives promise of something considerably above the average for their winter concerts. In accordance with the wishes of a host of friends the concert-excursion will be repeated on Tuesday night next. August 1, and an entirely new program will be rendered on a specially built stage in on on the Marshall Hall grounds. The club will recognize all tickets on this occasion which were bought for the last excursion and not used. This is an unusual proceeding, and one which should be highly commended by the public and their friends, as it gives those whom the threatening weather kept away an opportunity to hear the association without again having to pay admission. The seating capacity in the pa-villon will, as before, be ample and comadmission. The seating capacity in the pa-vilion will, as before, be ample and com-fortable, and, in response to numerous re-quests, the program will be a little longer than on the first night. Messrs. Carter asserted that the woman came to his house in Hill's court and knocked on the door. When Carter opened the door, it was stated, Mary threw the missile and injured him so severely in the head that it became necessary for Carter to be taken to a hospital for treatment. Carter admitted on crossexamination that he has served several terms in prison for assault. Mary Tubman said she went to Carter's house to inquire about her sister, Carter's wife, who, she said, had been beaten by Carter, but denied assaulting the prosecut ing witness. Down a Building.

Some Objection to Method in Tearing Col. Cecil Clay, chief clerk of the Department of Justice, has had his attention invited by the District Commissioners to a report made to them a few days ago by the principal assistant inspector of buildings relative to the method of throwing the walls of the building recently vacated by the department on Pennsylvania avenue between 15th street and Madison place. The assistant inspector of buildings, referring to a visit made by him to the building being torn down, says:

"While I was there the contractor threw a nine-inch wall, about eleven feet high and twenty-five feet long, on the iron beams and brick arches supporting the floors. The building was very perceptibly jarred and the brick arches broken and the beam de-flected about two and one-half inches under the impact of the falling walls. The story below is about fifteen feet high and the walls are thirteen inches thick, and if the contractor pursues the same means of removing the walls in this story I feel con-vinced that it will break through the floors vinced that it will break through the floors and cause a serious accident. The walls should be taken down nearer a level, as I find the mortar in the building is very poor, and if the walls are allowed to stand story high, in places, without bracing, a high wind will throw them over."

In forwarding a copy of this report to Col. Clay the Commissioners also invited his attention to the conditions of the permit, a copy of which they also forwarded, to barricade the contiguous sidewalks while the work of tearing down the building is in the work of tearing down the building is in progress, and which conditions, say the Commissioners, must be observed. This permit, which was granted to Mr. A. Davis, jr., president of the Capital Building and Repair Company, is as follows: "Permission is hereby granted to place a barricade across the sidewalks extending as far as ten feet exterior to the curbstone into the roadway, for use while removing the building formerly used by the Depart-ment of Justice, located on Pennsylvania avenue between 15th street and Madison place, these barricades to be removed each day upon the cessation of the work. As fast as the old material is taken from the old building it must be hauled away. No right to store old material upon the roadway is allowed. Where dry rubbish, apt to produce dust, is handled it must be kept wet or covered to prevent it being blown about by the wind."

CANDLER FIXES THE BLAME

wlessness in South Due to Fools and Politicians.

rgia's Governor's Ideas on Cause nd Remedy for Present Deplorable Conditions.

A dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., yesterday

Gov. Candler has since the Bainbridge se es of lynchings occurred been asked by wapapers in various parts of the country give his opinions on the race question in e south, and in reply to one of them the vernor has fully and freely expressed his ws as to the cause of the conflicts and e remedy therefor. He says:

Before the ballot was thrust into the inds of the negro, unprepared for it and terly ignorant of its sanctity and of the ponsibilities of citizenship, notwithstandhe was a slave, he was happy and well ntented to occupy that subordinate place society to which his nature and his conion assigned him. But after his emancipation came his eninchisement, and with his enfranchise-ent came a horde of carpetbaggers, penless adventurers, without principles or triotism, who took charge of him when s former master and protector, with hom he had lived for generations on the ost friendly and often even on affection-e terms, was de-citizenized by the parti-n reconstruction laws.

These carpetbaggers, calling themselves publicans, but really only a band of mauders, held together by the cohestve wer of public plunder, swarmed all over e south like the locusts in Egypt of old, is faisely taught. the south like the locusts in Egypt of old, and falsely taught the negroes that the southern white men were solely responsible for their enslavement, and were their worst and only enemies, and that therefore it was their duty and their interest to vote against them and their party, and oppose everything they were in favor of and favor everything they were opposed to—in a word, to hate them. Bad Effect on the Young.

"These evil teachings had but little permanent effect upon the grown-up negroes, but upon the children, the generation which has grown to manhood since that time, the effect has been most baneful. These were the prime causes of the alienation of the the prime causes of the alienation of the negro.

"A more immediate cause is the perpetual intermeddling with the relations of the races in the south by fanatics and fools who know nothing about the situation. They call town meetings and discuss imaginary wrongs of the southern negro which do not exist, and denounce the southern white people for crimes they have not committed. They publish in the newspapers grossly exaggerated accounts of such crimes grossly exaggerated accounts of such crimes as are committed against the negro in the south and omit any notice of the crime against the white woman which provoked the retaliation. They write incendiary let-ters to turbulent negroes all over the south, advising them to arm themselves with Winadvising them to arm themselves with Win-chester rifles, and for every guilty rapist who pays the penalty for his crime to shoot down the first two white men he meets. "Thousands of such letters have been written to Georgia in the last three months. By such methods they call into existence the very state of things they pretend to deplore, a condition of affairs that did not exist and never would have existed but for them and their senseless, unjust and incenthem and their senseless, unjust and incendiary conduct."

Governor Candler says the intermeddlers of the north do not represent a respectable minority, and that the lawless and criminal negroes of the south constitute less. He continues: "A few abandoned, reckless, criminal negroes are responsible for all the rapes and lynchings that have occurred, and their influence on those around them is deplorably bad and far-reaching. Good Suffer for the Bad.

"Still, it is true that rape, the crime which, nine times out of ten, is the cause, immediate or remote, of lynching, is as much deplored by the better class of negroes as by the better class of white men; but since, because some negroes committed and storage of valuable packs some white men lynch ravishers all the white people of the south are abused.

"It is a singular fact, too, that the pharities as singular fact, too, that the pharities who have most to say about the say about t but since, because some negroes commit 'Apaches,' 'southern barbarians,' etc., always stress the atrocity of the lynching, but I have never yet heard of one of them saying or doing anything to discourage the crime which provoked it. "Indeed, in some cases, instead of de-nouncing his crime, they have assailed the character of the victim of the brute's lust, which not only encourages bad negroes, but exasperates the friends of southern woman-bood

"Another and a continually present cause which contributes to race friction is corrupt politics. As is admitted by all candid men, the ballot was put in the hands of the southern negro when he was utterly unprepared for it. He regarded it as only an article of merchandise, to be bartered away to the man who would pay him the most for it, whether a drink of whisky or a most for it, whether a drink of whisky or a dollar or two.

"In many places his vote, while not a majority, is a balance of power. Hence, unscrupulous men of all parties contend for this vote, and hug the negro around the polls, and drink whisky with him. He is forgotten after election, and, like a spoiled child, becomes resentful and vindictive. This brings clashes with the whites."

Education and Crime.

In speaking of the remedy, Governor Candler says: "In Georgia for a generation there has been scarcely a negro between six and eighteen years of age who has not had access to a free school. As a consequence illiteracy has decreased among them from 85 per cent in 1870 to 40 per cent in 1899, and yet it is a startling fact that crime among them has increased in about the same proportion that illiteracy has decreased. cation which can in time greatly relieve the situation. This is moral education, which must be acquired at the family hearthstone and in the churches and Sunday schools and by the daily contact of the inferior race with the superior for years and even for generations. or generations.

"The greatest crime ever perpetrated not only against American ideals and institu tions and human liberty, but against the southern negro, was when, without prepara-tion, he was clothed with all the rights and privileges and responsibilities of citizen-ship.

We need a remedy immediate in its ef-"We need a remedy immediate in its erfects, and this remedy can only be found in a qualified suffrage. The ballot must only be intrusted to the virtuous and intelligent. Now, many men vote who are intelligent, but are not virtuous, and many more vote but are not virtuous, and many more who are virtuous, but not intelligent strict the suffrage to those having both these qualifications and one of the greatest causes of irritation will be removed, race prejudice, at least in politics, will be elimi-nated, and the happiness and the material and moral condition of the southren negro will be greatly enhanced."
